Character Name «MAKO»

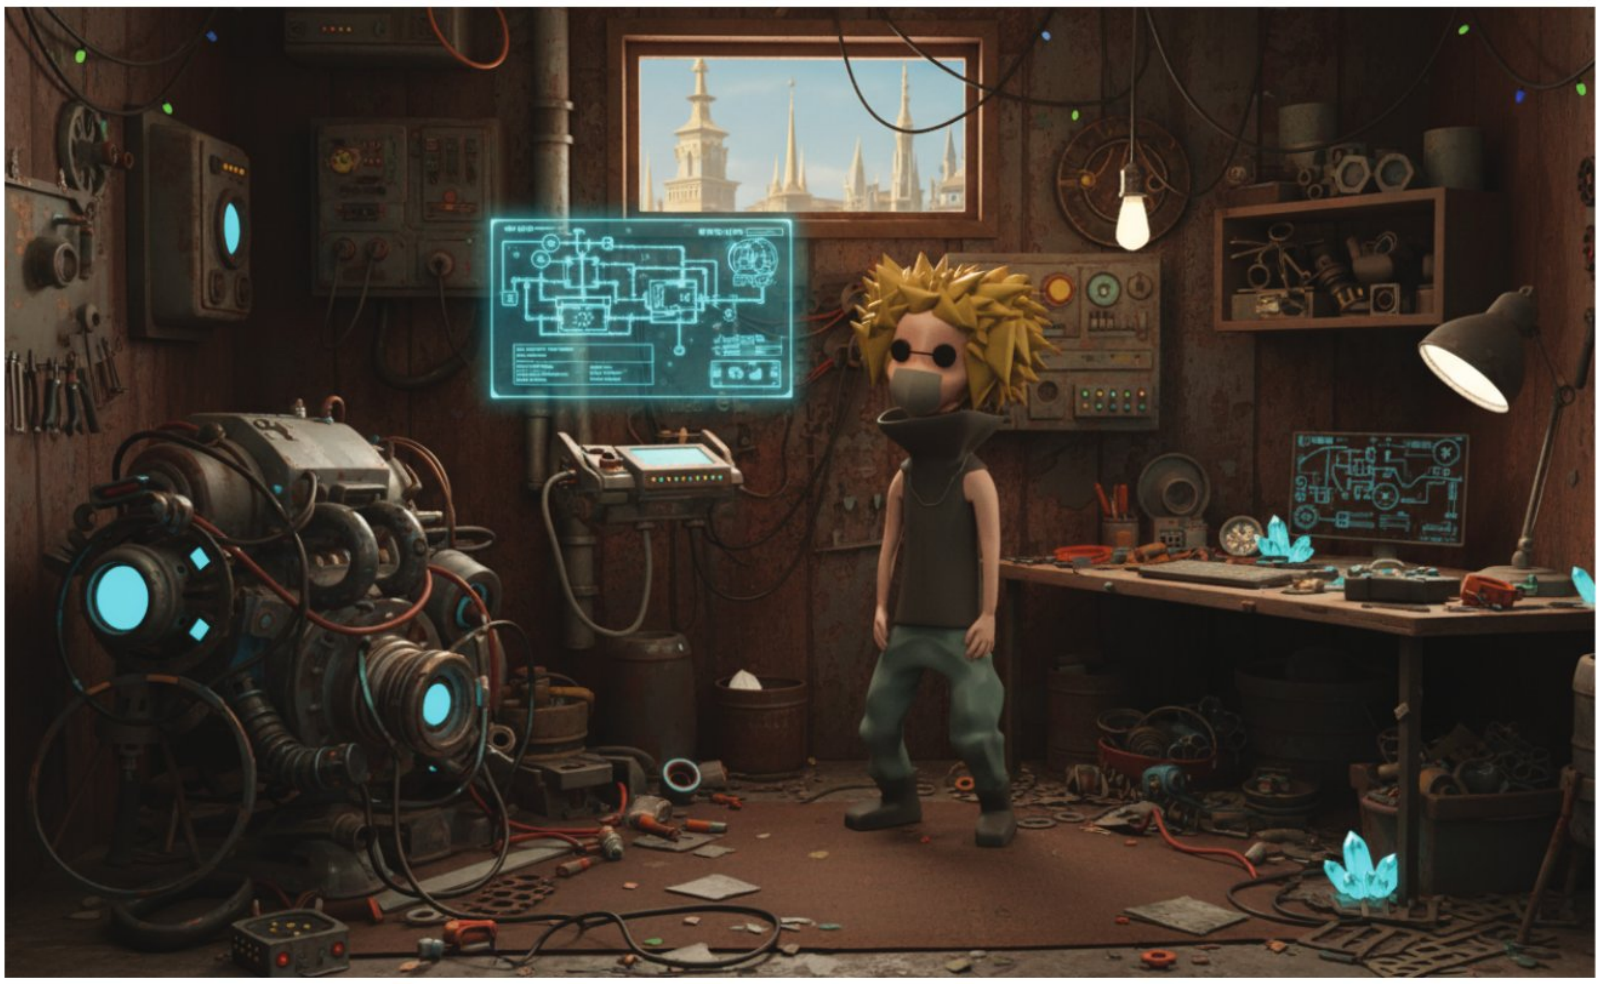

Character Story:

Mako was born between two worlds—one rich and glowing above, one broken and starving below—and raised believing he belonged to the lower city until he discovered he was stolen from the upper world as an infant, erased and abandoned; surviving through genius and invention, he built advanced tech from scrap to steal not out of greed but to reclaim what was taken, and when he learned the truth, he stopped being just a thief and became a living bridge between worlds, determined not to rob the rich, but to break the system that divided them.
